WHO IS MARCUS BLACK?

Marcus Black (born Marcus Moody) is an American rapper/writer from Southern California's Inland Empire. He is currently signed to independent record label Blue Collar Music Group, where he also serves as President of the label. For most of his career, the Chicago bred, California raised emcee went by stage name 'Paypa.' It was under this moniker that the rapper was able to build a local buzz, an early fan base and media exposure. Some of his career highlights are being featured on outlets such as MTV, BET 106 & Park, ALL Def Digital, Complex, VIBE, This Is 50, The Breakfast Club, In The Morning w/ Sway and other media platforms.

During his career he has worked with the best in the business with a catalog featuring artist such as Rick Ross, Jim Jones, French Montana, The Game, Eric Bellinger, King Los, Ray J, Justin Bieber & Raekwon.

After a brief hiatus and name change Marcus Black is back on the music scene. Fresh off a world tour with Rapper Game, Marcus recently joined 2 Million households weekly as he made his reality tv debut on VH1's Love & Hip Hop Hollywood.
